Launching and managing our Loyalty programme

Deborah's core competency is her networks and her ability to drive the right level of public relations interest in Gauteng. She has done a fantastic job with regards to the driving of engagement on our social platforms, something that can only be achieved if the balance of her key areas are been managed to a high level.

On a personal level, Deborah is a great sounding board, a joy as a colleague and has an appetite to learn quickly when required. I would be remiss if I did not say upfront that Deb's efforts have played a key part in the successful Ribs & Burgers brand entry strategy into South Africa.

We are fully committed to growing our association with Deborah and hope that our collective efforts will continue long into the future.
